

HOSTING A BECKY JOY WORKSHOP 2011

You are in charge....Create the workshop that you want! Stay close to home, eliminate travel expenses, and enjoy familiar surroundings and friends.

Imagine the possibilities!

Artists of all abilities are encouraged to host and attend. I will have demos, answer questions, and provide guidance to each and everyone of you.

Become inspired in your painting.

" My goal as an instructor is to train you to "see" to understand the relationship between values, color and color temperature. Once you understand these concepts, you can build on your skills and become the individual painter that you are, not what someone else is doing. I will teach you how to get a glow to your paintings using these concepts." Becky Joy

The savings of bringing a workshop to you is substantial, no airfare, no car rental, no hotel, and no extras in food.

Cost

The cost of a 3 day workshop is $225. per student.

Workshop Size

I have found through experience that 10 students is a good size, enabling me to give each student individual attention.

Becky's Lodging

Lodging will be discussed during the planning of the workshop. I require private accommodations and if not available, there may be additional fees to cover the expenses.

Registration and Payment

The tuition can be collected from you, the host, or I can set up a paypal account to collect the fees.
